

The Swedish Trade Council offers internship in Budapest during spring semester 2011

The Swedish Trade Council in Budapest offers services designed to assist the establishment and development of Swedish enterprises and their products, services and ideas on the Hungarian market. The Trade Council's office in Budapest is situated in the city center and employs 5 people. For more information about the office, visit: www.swedishtrade.se/ungern.

What will your duties be as an Intern in Budapest?

As an Intern, you will take part in consultancy projects, compile market reports and presentations and answer export-related questions from Swedish enterprises. Additional tasks might include assisting in the preparation of events or conferences as well as monitoring the press for business opportunities on the Hungarian market. We are open to adjust your working hours to your schedule at the school.

What are the qualifications required?

- The right person will preferably be a university/college student studying towards a degree within economics / engineering. Since the internship is unpaid you have to be able to finance your studies through scholarships for instance.
- Fluency in English and good command of Hungarian is a must, Swedish knowledge is a plus
- Outgoing and dedicated personality, as the internship demands a large amount of own responsibility
- Possess initiative drive and be result focused
